"HELLO" OF MINERS
ENTOMBED 2 DAYS*After Four Drill Shafts Had Been Bored to Reach Him*YOUNG MAN BURIED 85 FEET
IN JOPLIN MINE SUNDAY

Joplin, Mo., August 2.—Joseph Clary, imprisoned by a cave in at the White Oak Mine near this city since last Sunday morning, was reached by rescuers this morning. He was alive and well.

Three workmen were digging in the narrow shaft. The bottom suddenly gave way and they dropped into the drift at 8:26 o'clock. A glare of light flashed in on the entombed Clary, and he looked upon fellow beings after a period of darkness which, though reckoned by him to be something over four days, was really exactly three days and 45 minutes.

Clary's imprisonment had severely weakened him, but shouts from the mouth of the shaft, sounds from the outer world and gushes of fresh air gave heart and strength to the miner. At first he had little to say save to breathe his thanks.

A physician was lowered. He administered stimulants. Clary was hoisted to the surface and set foot on top of earth ten minutes after he was found. His father, brothers and the physician hurried him away to the Clary home nearby, where his mother, weakened by the strain of her long vigil, lay ill.

The first three attempts to drill a small hole to admit air and nourishment failed to locate young Clary, but the fourth was successful. It was found that Clary was in imminent danger of drowning from water rising in the drift. Diggers in the shaft redoubled their efforts and the drift was reached earlier than expected.

Tells Experience
Standing on a high section of ground not reached by the steadily rising water, Clary late last night related his remarkable experience to men on the surface. Communication was obtained with the young man by means of a telephone. As he told of his long vigil in absolute darkness fraught now with hope, now with bitter disappointment, but never with despair, he interrupted the conversation now and then to receive supplies of food lowered through the five-inch shaft, which after three holes were bored in vain, finally reached the drift where he was held a prisoner.

The suspense he suffered is indicated in part of his story as told over the telephone. He said:
"I tried to count the strokes of the drill and was able to gauge time a little by the pounding of the bit. Hours passed until I heard the drill cutting into the hard ground, but I could not locate the sound in the darkness."
"Soon the drilling stopped. I knew they had missed the drift. As time passed and I could hear no sound, I could picture them making new calculations. I was not surprised when I heard the drilling of the first hole."

Water Rises
"All the time the water was rising a little higher, but I was not worried. I was hungry, but I tried to keep from thinking about anything to eat. It was hard to keep from thinking about it, however, and I drank lots of water from the drift."
"After a while I felt a draft of fresh air, and I knew the drill had cut into the drift. But in the darkness I could not locate it. I called with all my might, but could not make myself heard. It was maddening."

"Then when I heard the drilling again in a new location I was discouraged for the first time. But not for a minute did I give up hope."
"It was just the same thing over and over again for the next few hours. I grew very hungry all the time, but tried to forget it. I busied myself as much as possible until the fourth drill hole penetrated the roof of the drift, it took me a long time to locate the hole."

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 1.—Shortly after noon today a faint "hello" up the fourth drill shaft sunk in the effort to rescue Joseph Clary, 22 years old, who has been entombed in a mine drift 85 feet below the surface since Sunday noon, announced that he was alive and that the work of the hundreds of volunteer workers who have struggled incessantly for 48 hours to reach him had been successful.

Talks to His Rescuers
After a lapse of a few minutes Clary cried out up the drill hole:
"Water about three feet deep in some places in drift. I am on a high place and it may not reach me if you hurry. The air was getting bad. I feel much better now."

A large number of friends enjoyed the evening. The hostess and honorees wore white lingerie gowns while Mrs. Edens was attired in a gown of black satin.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleaned and BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. UNKNOWN NEGRO
ATTEMPTS ASSAULT*On Miss Lola Belcher, of Nortonville—Saved by Arrival of Sister-in-Law*POSSE MAKE FRUITLESS SEARCH

An Unknown negro made an attempt to assault the thirteen year old daughter of William Belcher a Nortonville miner Tuesday morning blocking the girl almost to insensibility before he was frightened away by the arrival of the girl's sister-in-law with a shot gun. Following the news of the attempted assault a posse of citizens was hastily formed and men on foot and on horseback scoured the country seeking the fugitive but without success. The citizens of the little city were considerably worked up over the occurrence. The girl while badly frightened was not seriously injured and has recovered from her fright. She says she gave the negro something to eat several days ago and has seen him hanging around the neighborhood two or three times since. Mr. Belcher is employed by the Nortonville Coal & Coke Company and is a substantial citizen of the place.

GOMPERS HAS 20 DAYS
FOR CONTEMPT ANSWERS*Justice Wright Makes Order in Case of Federation of Labor Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, the labor leaders, were today allowed twenty days by Justice Wright of the District Supreme Court in which to answer the charges of contempt against them, as contained in a second report of the committee of prosecutors in the Bucks Stove and Range cases.

The court held that the filing of charges of contempt under oath by the committee of prosecutors made out a prima facie case. Justice Wright's order will permit the defendants to file answer under oath to the charge or to answer a series of interrogatories, propounded by the prosecutor, designed to substantiate the charges. Counter proof may be filed by the respondents at the end of the twenty days, but failure to offer such counter proof, the counter held, would be taken to an admission of the facts as charged, and the case would be disposed of under the law.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

KILLED WHILE RIDING WHEEL*Carl Marino, of Howell, was Instantly Killed Tuesday Morning Near Howell Shops*WARNING BY SWITCH-MAN UNHEEDED

Carl Marino, 327 Houston avenue, Howell, a carpenter in the L. & N. shops at Howell, was killed at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning in the shop yards while attempting to ride his wheel between two moving switch engines.

As Marino started between the two engines Harry Inglehardt, a switchman who was riding the running board of the engine that killed the man, called to him not to attempt the gap. A space of twelve feet separated the two moving engines and Marino had to ride his bicycle on a narrow board across the tracks. His wheel slipped as he peddled upon the board and he fell under the engine wheels.

His head was crushed almost off and the neck was almost severed. Death was instantaneous. The engine, although moving slowly, carried the prostrate man several feet before it could be stopped.

Marino was little known among the workmen at the shops, having recently moved to Evansville from Louisville, Ky. He leaves a wife and two little children. He was employed in the cabinet repair shops.

Coroner E. C. Macer was not notified of the man's death until after 6 o'clock. He had the man's body removed to Smith's morgue. Mrs. Marino was not notified until several hours after the accident, owing to the inability of the man's employers to locate his family. The widow is prostrate.

WORK ON NEW
COALING STATION*Mortons Gap Will Soon Have
New Plant for Through
Trains*MEANS CONTINUOUS GOOD WORK FOR MORTONS GAP MINES.

Geo. Hill, chief engineer of the Henderson division of the L. & N. was here this week consulting with the engineering department of the St. Bernard Mining Co., with reference to the progress of work and the details of the new coaling station at Mortons Gap, on which work was begun some time ago. Thus far only the excavating and grading have proceeded. The St. Bernard company has timbers on the ground with which to construct its trestle from the tippie to the new coal pockets to be constructed and the plans are agreed upon in detail. The material for the sixteen 8 tons pockets to be erected has none of it arrived but will probably be shipped to Mortons during the first half of August and the work will proceed rapidly to completion.

At this coaling station the through freights that formerly coaled at Earlington, before they were diverted through the "cut off" will coal. The plant will be modern in every respect and ample in size and equipment to meet every demand upon it for years into the future. And it will mean better work the year round for the mine employees at Mortons Gap.

An Editor's Toast

How dear to our hearts is the face of a dollar,
When some kind subscriber presents it to view!
It may come today or it may come tomorrow;
It may come from others or it may come from you.
The big shiny dollar, the round silver dollar,
Dear delinquent subscriber, present it to view.
A round silver dollar we hail as a treasure,
For often expenses overwhelm us with woe.
We count it the source of an exquisite pleasure,
And yearn for it fondly wherever we go.
Loving money is sinful, some good people tell us,
But the penniless printer can hardly be blamed.
The penniless printer, the hard-working printer,
Keeps sending out papers that interest you.
So hand in the dollar, the big, daddy dollar,
Dear reader, now won't you present them in view?

Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay

Kidney troubles and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna. St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley's Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills.

OVER NIAGARA IN A BARREL

'BOBBY' LEACH in Buffalo News

"I GOT IN and they clamped down the top from the outside. They headed for Hog Island, as I told them to, and some minutes later came three taps on the barrel. That meant that they had gone as far as they could so I kicked back three times and then I felt or heard the water rushing along outside. I was going head first, but I says to myself, 'God save the king and the devil take the hindmost,' and away I goes.

"I knew I had about a mile to go, but I didn't know what would happen. I didn't have long to wait. We began to bump the bumps—sometimes big waves and then rocks. Once a wave threw me up, turned the barrel over and down we came first. We bobbed along for a while, up and down, and then droye hard on a rock. I heard something rip and expected to see daylight. I guess that was when the end went off.

"All of a sudden we went up and raced ahead. 'Well, thinks I, here's for a go.' Sure enough, we turned feet first and then went straight down, fast but smooth. It seemed a long way to the bottom, but I knew what was going on and held my breath. I could tell when we went under water. Way down under we seemed to stop. Then up she came, like an express train. I felt the barrel shoot out of the water and fall back and then I kind of lost interest, for I knew the lads would get me out. It seemed an hour till they had me ashore and a bit of comfort between my teeth."

Herbine also extends its restorative influence to the stomach and bowels. It helps digestion and food assimilation; purifies the bowels and brings back the habit of regular daily bowel movements. When the stomach, liver and bowels are active, bilious impurities no longer obstruct functional processes, the result of which is renewed energy, mental activity and cheerful spirits.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench, A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spells of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A splendid remedy for such attacks.

A medicine that has cured thousands. Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true kidney remedy.

Many Earlington people rely on it. Here is Earlington proof.

Mrs. H. C. Smith, of Earlington, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for years. I had severe pains in the small of my back and whenever I lifted or stooped the attacks were particularly acute. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning I was very lame. I became tired easily, felt languid and was frequently troubled by headaches and spells of dizziness. I knew that my kidneys were disordered, as the secretions were unnatural. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and received relief from the time I began using them. The contents of two boxes cured me. I shall recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity."

Age of Fishes.

Until within recent years there had been ascertained no trustworthy way of finding out the age of fish. It has been shown that mere size does not indicate age. Reibisch, Heincke and others have discovered that many of the bones, scales and otoliths of fishes have annual age rings, resembling those in tree trunks.
